8 a.m. – 2 p.m.

DelTech Owens Campus
Georgetown, DE

Access, quality, and cutting-edge healthcare services are critical to overall community wellness; they are a fundamental determinant of life. For rural residents, access, quality, and innovative health practices can often face a wide range of obstacles leading to poor community health outcomes.

Join us as we invite the Office of Medicaid, HRSA Region 3, CEO's from four anchor hospital systems, workforce specialists and more for updates on the national rural health front and conversations with rural health leaders about their work and innovation in Delaware.

Featuring renowned Keynote Speaker Michael Meit from NORC at the University of Chicago, don't miss the chance to learn and collaborate on the priorities of rural health in Delaware moving forward.
